

As a citizen, I would like to express my opinion that it would be wrong to lift the cross-ownership ban relating to media ownership. Concentration of the control of media is extremely dangerous, and certainly would not serve the public interest at all.

The people need a variety of independent sources of information, and lifting the current cross-ownership ban would place that in jeopardy.

Yours Truly,

Robert Hutko